THE STUDENTS OF EUCLID SENIOR HIGH
711 East 222nd Street
Euclid, Ohio
The year of 1954 witnessed a distinct change at Euclid High... a certain something seemed to be added... the intangible feeling called school spirit had begun to grow... it was the feeling that brought tears to our eyes at the first pep assembly... a quickened heartbeat as our alma mater was sung... a deep feeling of pride whenever our school was mentioned... a closer harmony between faculty and students as we worked together with one objective in mind—the best for Euclid High...

The spirit of Euclid High is still growing and will continue to do so for many years to come... we have tried to present the year of 1953-54 to you through the eyes and ears of our school itself... Eddy, as we have nicknamed our school, will bring back memories to you of your own high school days... days filled with joys, sorrows, successes, and disappointments. Come with us to meet Eddy—listen eagerly and read carefully as he writes his "First Will and Testament"... for he has a remarkable story of a truly remarkable year to tell.
Memories of each passing year
Within these walls we hold dear
Hail to Thee, O Euclid High School,
To thy name all praise we sing.
Happy days of youthful pleasure.
Learning, living, life so dear.
Our hearts fill with gratitude
For all that is to be—
Alma Mater, Euclid High School,
Ail our praise we bring to thee.

Where the blue of Eric’s waters
Casts the sun’s bright golden rays,
There all Euclid’s sons and daughters
Sing the joys of student days.
If after-days be dark and drear
And storms of life draw nigh.
The memories of our friendships here
Will lift our hearts to Euclid High.

I, Edward Samuel Hughes, Senior, being of sound stone and steel, do hereby dedicate this book, My First Will and Testament, to the ever-growing "School Spirit" enclosed in my frame . . . I hereby will the events of my school year, 1953-1954, to the memory of those who shared, lived, and experienced them . . . And so, on this eleventh day of June, 1954, I hereby set my hand to bring back in writing the above said happenings . . . I request that as you read the pages set before you of my First Will and Testament, that a word, picture, or phrase will bring a memory to your mind, a smile to your lips, and a thought, "It was a wonderful year!" . . .
I bequeath to you the following:

Remaining with me, year after year...
In contrast with the rest of the world, every American has an opportunity for an education. It is possible for him to go to school through senior high school without the payment of fees which are a part of many European school systems. The only limitation is his ability and effort. If he has these two elements, he can go through college by means of scholarship. Nowhere else in the world is such an opportunity available. Universal free public education is a priceless American heritage. Like any other public institution, the schools must survive under public scrutiny and examination. In a democracy, constructive criticism produces growth and development to meet the needs of the people.

As each senior receives his diploma, the obligation of preserving, improving, and advancing the cause of public education should be in his mind. Your parents and the citizens of your city hope that you have taken full advantage of the opportunities in our public schools. Your future obligation is to pass this opportunity on to future generations. The Board of Education expresses its congratulations and best wishes for your future.

Sincerely yours,

W. G. Fordyce

Administration
It is a satisfying experience to look back over the activities and achievements of any school year. I am sure that as you leaf through the pages of this annual you will have pleasant memories of an enjoyable and worthwhile year with your classmates and teachers.

As the years go by, you will treasure more the story told within the covers of this book.

The Euclidian staff and sponsor are to be congratulated for this fine production. Their efforts in behalf of the entire school are appreciated.

The best wishes of the school go with the class of 1954. May their ambitions be achieved with honor to themselves and their school.

Sincerely yours,
Clifford G. Owens

Your friendships of high school days are most lasting, for they have been tested over and over again.

This yearbook is a record of friendship. Interesting as it is now, it will become increasingly more valuable with passing years. To you these classmates will always be young, carefree, and joyful. No matter what changes life may make, you will have the privilege of looking upon your friends as they were during your happy days at Euclid Senior High School. May you receive the best of everything.

Sincerely yours,
Walter Schwegler
Mr. Meryl Baumer has been Dean of Boys since my first school year. Previously he taught at Shore and practiced law. Past experiences have equipped him well for the position he now holds.

Dean of Girls, Mrs. Harriet Sheats, guides my girl students along the road to better citizenship. Previously she was a visiting teacher for Euclid Public Schools. Helping girls choose their right vocation or college is one of her main duties.

Here one sees Mr. "Shakespeare" Blackburn's senior English class in the library. Once he told me his classes used, "Tressler as a companion, Webster as a guide, and English literature as a confidante." My English Department prepares my seniors for their college freshman year of English, so that "many of them make B's." I'm sure his students will always remember, "Tomorrow, and tomorrow, and tomorrow." "Thou sure and firm set earth," and writing complete accounts of their weekends and holidays.

First-year Spanish lays the foundation of the language firmly in the minds of my students taking the course. It gives the basics, the teaching pronunciation, and the elementary grammar. At the end of the course, my student has been prepared for a more thorough study of the language. If you asked one of my students taking Spanish how he feels, he might answer, "Estoy bien."

Amid the smells of sulphur dioxide and carbon, my students apply what they learn in their textbooks to practice. I can always hear them saying, "Another test tube hits the dust," "Turn off the water," or "What a smell!" In chemistry not only do my students learn the basic science, but responsibility and how to cooperate with others. This course is necessary for those entering into the engineering and scientific fields.

"Run to the office for a few more pointers..." So often I heard this saying from Mr. Adrian Buerger's solid geometry class. Here students learned in an informal, interesting way. They applied the principle of "seeing is believing and added such new words to their vocabulary as prisms, polyhedrons and icosahedrons. What they have learned will be the basis for higher mathematics, the foundation of engineering.

"The British are coming!..." the Revolutionary War is just one of the many phases of history my students learn in American government. Mr. "Uncle Neal" Nelson gives his students a better understanding of our American heritage and culture and does so with discussions, informal lectures, recitations, and educational games... instructing his class in an interesting fashion.

Whenever I stroll into the band room it is not unusual to hear Mr. Dale Harper saying, "Get to work!" He would be guiding the band members toward that goal of the fifty-six first places in the solo and ensemble contest. My band strives to achieve a genuine knowledge of music and a general feeling of responsibility. This is a group that works as a team to provide me with a first-rate band.

Here in office practice, the most important class in my Commercial Department, the girls are taught the proper ways and methods, so they can go out into the business world and become efficient secretaries. These girls gain experience by working as secretaries for my teachers. If I don’t happen to hear them say, “Not another mistake!” they might be exclaiming, “Egad!”

“Throw ... throw ... throw ... ,” to this rhythmical statement the carriage of the typewriters are thrown into action. My first-year typing students learn how to operate a typewriter and the general mechanics of the machine. In their second term they learn speed, carbons, and invoices. After taking the typing course, my students can run a typewriter “blindfolded!”

In this class I can remember never seeing anyone sitting in his assigned seat. Here Mr. Fred Vollman, head of the art department, runs his class by giving freedom to each student to do as he wishes, and the students do so with respect and appreciation. Showing great promise for the future in any phase of art . . . they learn printing, metals, enamels, oils, and ceramics. Mr. Vollman's favorite saying seems to be, "Sam! two demerits!"

With the sound of the bell that starts class, one can hear a rush of feet running the last few yards to the doorway. It's the boys in the print shop trying not to be tardy. These boys print not only the Survey, but school programs for plays and sports, and any other printing job needed. This class is not only one of my most important functions but provides excellent training for prospective printers.
Nurse

If you become ill while in school, you may be assured of competent care. Miss Nada Batich, my school nurse, is always on hand to give first aid and medical care. Her office is located on the left in the executive corridor. At the beginning of each year, Miss Batich and the doctor give regular check-ups to all the students. My seniors are also given eye tests. Miss Batich performs a valuable and very necessary job.

Dorothy Steen, Celi Shearer, Jean Bowditch, JoAnn Mason.

Custodian

At the far end of my executive corridor is the office of my head custodian, Mr. George Brewster, and his assistant, Mr. Jerry Ganser. Directing the operations of a large staff is Mr. Brewster's main occupation and when visitors continually remark about my A-1 condition, it is a credit to his management and organization. No mishap is too small to escape his watchful eye; no request, too trivial that it will not receive his immediate attention. This department often work "around the clock" to assure my many school and community activities of a clean and comfortable place to meet, perform, and be enjoyed.

Library

In my library there are over 9,000 volumes kept in order by my librarians whose duties are many and varied. Listed among these duties are: (1) "bouneing"; (2) reference and recommending; and (3) passing out supplies: ink, pencils, and Kleenex.

The staff is confronted with some odd requests such as: "an under the bridge dictionary," "hysterical" novels, and "a blue book I used last semester."

When I asked what joys there are in being a librarian, Miss Jean Bowditch answered, "My work with students in reference and book selection - to the point that a bit of humor is often a saving grace."

Cafeteria

My cafeteria is the eating spot for most of my students. My staff works long and hard to prepare the meals eaten by my student body and faculty.

The dietitian told me that 900 of my students buy lunches daily and consume over 1000 bottles of milk.

My dietetic staff not only prepares the school lunches but also the parties and banquets given by various organizations throughout the year.
Leaving now, cherishing high school memories, as they open the door to the future...
Years come and go... We are sophomores, juniors, and finally seniors... We waited a long time for our senior year and our graduation. There were many memorable occasions, but the following are foremost in our minds: Homecoming with Heights... Seeing the last game or meet in all of the sports... Macbeth... The final hour and fifteen minute exam period... "Room For One More"... knee socks or stuffed animals, boy-blouses or ribbons... The Senior Prom with all of the finery and excitement... the senior banquet... Baccalaureate services... the playing of the familiar "Pomp and Circumstance"... and then the last memory made during our high school days — commencement, the receiving of our diplomas. But most of all we will remember the teachers and the underclassmen who made our years here so difficult and yet so much fun.

Juniors

Soon they'll turn the last curve on the road of happy high school days . . .
Not our first year, and yet, not our last, we, the juniors of 1953-1954, can look back on memories and look ahead to the future. As juniors we will long remember the junior party, the Bunny Hop, the Junior Assembly, the National Honor Installation, “Meet Me In St. Louis,” the high light of the year, the Junior Prom — the Apple Blossom Ball . . . Spauldings . . . sports . . . The Sweetheart Ball . . . cramming for exams . . . the Heights game . . . Student Council elections . . . the King Hop . . . being the highest rated class in Mr. Owen’s Tuesday morning tests . . . the days school was called off because of snow . . . and “Fireman, Save My Child.” . . . With these memories tucked away in our past, we look ahead to next year when we shall be “The Seniors”.

Eagerly they came, bringing new spirit and enthusiasm . . .
Our first year at Euclid Senior High has come to an end. We, the sophomores of 1953-1954, can look back on our first year of high school life and remember all the occasions, eventful or uneventful, big or small, that made our first year the success it was. Besides being part of the spirit at football and basketball games and the girls' "Fifth Avenue" tank suits, we will always remember the Survey and Euclidian assemblies, term papers, exams, the Bunny Hop, the sophomore class party, the seniors, the sophomore competitive assembly, Homecoming, "little-boy" shirts, and the tournaments. Because of these memories and many others, we will long remember being sophomores. It was our first year at a wonderful school . . . we are only glad it wasn't our last.

Junior Play
Seeing a play on opening night, a person cannot really appreciate the hard work and tension involved in creating, maintaining, and presenting it. The success of a play does not really depend upon how the people react, although the sound of applause is music to the hardworking members of the cast, but upon the spirit created during rehearsals. My Junior Class Play of 1953, "Meet Me in St. Louis," has been exceptional in this respect. The cast worked harder than usual because the rehearsal time was short. The obstacles to surmount were great. Many times the lines were read over and over again to insure that the moods of the acts would be successful. Working hand in hand with the cast was the production staff. They had the responsibility of performing such duties as: getting props, advertising, and helping with scenery.

Directed by Mr. Stanley Schultz, my Juniors on November 20, 1953, at 8:00 P.M., presented in the opinion of many, the greatest play in my short history.

Senior Play
Opening night came; the curtain went up; the play began. On March 26, my Senior Class presented to the public “Room For One More”. The play was selected by Mr. Leonard Robuck, who was this year’s director. He picked it because it was a play that called for depth, mood, and meaning.

Those given parts worked long and hard to make the play a great success. The production staff was in charge of the extra duties that go along with a play such as props, scenery, and advertising.

All those who viewed the play on opening night caught the spirit and determination of the cast and watched with interest a play that was unique and different—a play that will always be remembered by cast and audience as one of the best that was presented within my auditorium walls.
Second Annual Big Show

The Big Show is the biggest, the best, and the only all-school production of my school year. Each year the theme of the Big Show is different; but the time, the work, and the energy to produce it is always present. Miss Jan Tompkins and Mr. Dale Harper, the "master minds" of my only variety show, aided by many faculty members and students, plan and write the various scenes, direct the mammoth cast of over 200, and rehearse my band and my choir. Preliminary work begins two weeks after the closing curtain of the previous year's production. Plans are formulated throughout the summer and the final organization is completed early in the fall. At this point my students fit their varied talents into the well-formed plans.

Much of the talent for the Big Show is uncovered during the class competitive assemblies. This year the Sophomores, using as their theme the Harvest Festival (see above), featured the variety of a magician, a snake dancer, and a tumbling act combined with entertaining vocal numbers to win in a close vote over the Juniors, with the Seniors finishing in third place.

Competitive Assemblies
My Concert Band is an organization of the highest standing in the minds of my faculty and my students. My group of musically trained students, directed by Dr. Dale Harper and his assistants, Mr. Albert Mitchell, Miss Barbara Wilson, and Mr. Art Sydow, have won recognition by their fine performance, appearance, and behavior.

Many of my band members are honor roll students and members of the National Honor Society. They work hard in their studies in order to improve themselves and, in that way, bring prestige to the band.

One of the main aims of the Concert Band is to earn a first place in the state through contest competition. They practice many tedious hours preceding these contests, and if they earn a first in district competition, they proceed to compete with all the top bands in the state.

The band is run in a very disciplinary manner. Any minor problems which arise during the year are looked into by the Band Board of Directors. This group, composed of ten members chosen by the band each year, has much authority in band affairs. The 72,000 pieces of music in my band library are kept in order by the band librarians.

The future plans of my Concert Band are to keep the spirit and interest of its members up at the peak it has been in past years. They will also continually strive for the main objective of the music department—perfection.

BAND BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Front Row: J. Coccia, D. Schneider, C. Lindquist.
Learning to play and to appreciate classical music are some of the main aims of my orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. Dale Harper.

Due to the small number of members, my orchestra does not participate in concerts or contests as does my band. Their main affair of the year was participating in the Lake Erie League Orchestra Festival, where they united with over 350 members from other high school orchestras.

Pep Band

Adding a touch of spirit to my pep assemblies are the thirteen members of the Pep Band. These boys, all members of the Concert Band, play marches and accompany the student body in my Alma Mater.

During the football season they sacrificed their leisure time to rehearse assembly routines with the majorettes. An example of the school spirit in some of my students can be found in this small group.
One of my hardest working organizations is the marching band. This unit, composed of sixty-four concert band members and twelve majorettes, furnished the half-time entertainment during the football season and marched in the Columbus Day, Christmas, and Memorial Day Parades. However, all this was not accomplished without many hours of intense drilling and many long hours of memorizing music.

Every morning during football season, the members of the band and the majorettes rehearsed the show for that week. Because of all this strenuous work and the success of all their efforts, the Exchange Club honored them with a banquet.

Marching Band
A Cappella Choir

BOYS' QUARTET
Miss Jan Tompkins directing Chuck Tarantino, Larry Collingwood, Paul Brown, and Louis Prebevec in one of their numbers.

My students can be justly proud of my vocal department under the direction of Miss Jan Tompkins. Its main objective is to present my students and faculty with bigger and better school programs and to be available for community functions. The A Cappella Choir, which represents me at concerts and the Lake Erie League Choir Festival, has as its purpose the development of an appreciation for and an ability to perform various types of sacred and secular music, including choral works of the masters down to the light novelty tunes. The Choir provides entertainment for many programs and this year participated in the Christmas program; a Big Show production in special scenery and costume of Fred Waring's "Holy City"; and in the Choir Festival held at Parma. From the A Cappella Choir, a choir council was selected to plan social activities and to take care of routine duties during rehearsals and concerts. The Boys' Quartet this year was established mainly to provide entertainment for community functions and club meetings and to demonstrate their fine talent in the Big Show and various assemblies. Many hours of constant practice are needed for the fine performances that my vocal department has given, and many thanks go to it for its contribution to my school life.

Fifth Row: D. Lindsay, V. Zaletel, D. Wadsworth, A. Carlson, H. Shirk, J. Dawson, D. Rehard, R. Lapinskas.
The purpose of my Madrigals, a group of selected students from the various choirs, is to learn about the different types of music adaptable to a small group. While they sing mainly 16th century madrigal music, light novelty numbers are studied for the purpose of special entertainment. They appeared in contests, and school and community programs this year and sang for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Special sessions of caroling were held at the Tasty Shop and the Euclid-Glenville Hospital.
My Organizations

Supervised activities that have become an important role in my school life...
My chapter of the National Honor Society, directed by Mr. Stanley Whiteside, is one of 3,500 in the United States today. To be elected to this organization is one of the most coveted honors that a high school can bestow upon a student.

Any of my juniors or seniors who have maintained an eighty-five or above average and is in the upper third of his class is eligible. My members are chosen on the basis of their character, leadership, and service, as well as scholarship.

On January 22, N.H.S. inducted thirty-six seniors and twenty-two juniors in one of the most impressive ceremonies ever seen by my students and faculty. It was one that will be remembered always by those who saw it, regardless of whether they actually took part in it or not. Mr. Whiteside opened the assembly by briefly stating the society’s history and how members are chosen. The program was then turned over to the president of N.H.S., Leroy Yeary. After his introduction, four members of N.H.S. spoke on the four requirements of a member: scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Then came the all important moment for which everyone had waited. The secretary, Becky Gibbons, read the names of all who had been newly elected into the organization. In the background during the whole program was subdued organ music which added greatly to the impressive ceremony.

National Honor Society
It is the aim of every high school journalist to become a member of Quill and Scroll. As in many other high schools, my chapter is purely an honorary organization, established to recognize those who have done outstanding work on one of my publications. It is an international organization with chapters in Alaska, Canada, England, and China, as well as the United States. The pin, which is a symbol of membership, is a quill under which is a scroll and the initials I.H.S.H.S.J., which means International Honor Society for High School Journalists.

To belong to this organization, a person must have made a significant contribution to one of my high school publications, Euclidian, Survey, or Encygo, and have a high scholastic average. He must also be recommended by his advisor. It gives a person who has a true interest in writing a chance to be recognized. The reward is even greater since this organization is so widely known and accepted. Membership is a memorable and significant achievement.
The National Forensic League was established in 1931 under the direction of Mr. Meryl Baumer. At that time there were only twelve charter members. The next year the club was taken over by Mr. Leonard Robuck and has since grown to over forty members.

These members have the opportunity to demonstrate their speaking ability and to improve it. They also have the opportunity to compete against students from other schools.

My speech team and my debaters have done exceptionally well this season. On December 12, they traveled to Youngstown where they tied for first place in their division. Those speakers in oratorical, dramatic, humorous, original, and extemporaneous speaking traveled to Youngstown Boardman on January 9 for an individual events contest. Euclid showed its strength by taking first place in extemporaneous speaking and first, second, and third places in oratorical. On January 30 at Cathedral Latin, they topped thirty-five other schools and won the Sweepstakes Trophy.

N. F. L. held its third annual Individual Events Contest on February 20, 1954, with forty schools participating.

National Forensic League
The Student Council is one of my most active and important student organizations. The membership in this organization consists of the elected council officers, the Executive Board, and an elected representative from each homeroom. The purpose of the Student Council is to link my student body with my faculty, to provide harmony between students and faculty, and to bring efficiency to my government. Under the assistance and guidance of Miss Pera Campbell, the organization's sponsor, the Student Council has sponsored many of the dances after the football and basketball games; presented my first annual Homecoming; brought to my students assemblies such as Charles King, the nationally renowned singer from the Karamu; furnished the Recreation Room; purchased door draperies for the auditorium; purchased a school banner; and maintained a record library. Without the skillful hand of the Student Council, my students would not have the opportunity of voicing their opinions in student government, or other functions that fall under the jurisdiction of the Student Council. The members of the Student Council are competent leaders who deserve the respect of their teachers and fellow classmates.
The Executive Board of my Student Council, presided over by the Student Council president, is composed of all the candidates who ran for offices in my Student Council. Each of these students is then assigned to head one of the council's many functions—room secretaries, the book store, concession workers, hall guards, cafeteria clean-up committee, magazine drive, assemblies, recreation room, and the lost and found. The room secretaries deliver messages and take care of the lost and found. My book store supplies my students with essential school materials. The concession workers operate the booths and sell refreshments at the athletic events. The hall guards assist visitors and aid in keeping the halls clean. The guides show my many visitors highlights of the school plant and its activities. The Executive Board decides what important issues will be brought before the Student Council and the projects which they desire the Council to undertake.

My Euclidian Editorial Staff, under the supervision of Sponsor George Wiley and Student Editor Joanne Lacey, is subdivided into several sections with each section playing an important role in the production of the yearbook. Aiding Joanne in her time-consuming and difficult job were Elaine Lokar, assistant editor, Audrey Blanc, script editor, Al Carlson, make-up editor, and Deanna Cook, art editor. The students on this staff worked unceasingly, searching for and organizing new ideas concerning smart cover designs, interesting arrangements, and selection of pictures.

My Euclidian Editorial Staff had sole responsibility of the success or failure of this year's Euclidian, My First Will and Testament. Additional students were selected to act as section editors. There were editors for the music department, organizations, girls' and boys' sports, speech and dramatics, as well as editors for the classes.

My student body owes a debt of gratitude to these people who gave so freely of their time and effort to provide a yearbook that you can proudly treasure in the years to come.
The Euclidian Business Staff had the important job of raising the money for My First Will and Testament through advertising and subscriptions. Other means of raising money were through publication movies and dances. The staff sponsored "Winter Rhapsody" in December.

This year my staff was headed by Manager Jan Eiber and her assistant, Jan Kovach. It was their duty to choose the business staff and to assist them in every possible way. The circulation manager, Peggy Delaney, was in charge of student subscriptions. George Opalich and Carole Staples, the advertising managers, scheduled students to sell advertising. Pat Sodja, as treasurer, was responsible for the billing of advertisers and keeping the books balanced.

The remainder of the staff is made up of homeroom representatives whose job it is to get subscriptions from students in their homerooms. These representatives are chosen because of their dependability for this job.

Euclidian Business Advisor, Mr. Robert Bennett, did a great deal to aid the staff with their various problems.

My First Will and Testament could not be a success without the combined efforts and achievements of all the members of the business staff.

Euclidian Business Staff
Under the leadership of its four editors: Tom Baker, news editor; Audrey Blanc, feature editor; Ray Vespe and Bill Warholic, sports editors, my Survey retained its reputation as an excellent school publication. As editors, it was their duty to decide what stories were to be written and assign them to the staff reporters. They also proofread the stories and planned the make-ups of the papers.

Being on the lookout for news is the prime qualification of a member of my Editorial Staff. They must be capable and dependable, for deadlines must always be met. Reporters are selected for their ability to write.

The Survey is a bi-monthly publication. It is under the supervision of Mr. Myron Gordon. Those on the Staff know how congenial Mr. Gordon is. Because of his efficiency and expert knowledge of journalism, along with the help rendered by his four editors, the Survey has managed to run smoothly and efficiently this year as in past years.
Tackling the problem of raising enough money to support my school paper is a very difficult and tiring task. It was handled this year by Nancy Dow, the business manager, and her capable and hardworking staff. Her assistant was Barbara Dorn. Becky Gibbons, circulation manager, and Jan Smith, her assistant, were in charge of all homeroom representatives and aided them in getting subscriptions. Advertising Manager Audrey Blanc and her assistant, Curt Gordon, had the task of securing advertisers for my Survey. Keeping the books and accounts in order was the treasurer, Christine Fazio. Charlotte Welshner was this year’s staff secretary.

A very big hand should go to this staff as they are the third business staff to operate the Survey in the credit column.

Not only do these people solicit advertising, sell subscriptions, and send out bills, but during football season they are the ones who stand out in the cold to sell programs and again during basketball season support the Survey by selling programs.

Survey Business Staff
My cheerleaders are the force behind my spirit. They organize and lead my students in good, clean cheering for my many sports. This year, under the leadership of Captain Connie Parr, my Panther cheerleaders did just that. They faithfully followed my teams and gave them the extra push that they may have needed.

Not only do these six girls practice all summer and for two hours twice a week, but on Wednesday, third period, these girls give up their time to act as teachers to girls who belong to the Megaphone Club. There are about thirty girls in the club—most of whom hope to become cheerleaders. The varsity cheerleaders teach these girls all the skills of cheering, including acrobatics, hand and leg movement, facial expression, coordination, and poise. These girls then become candidates for positions on the junior varsity and varsity squads.

Aside from its cheering activities, the Megaphone Club always sponsors one “After-the-Game Dance.” It is also one of my clubs that help during the basketball tournaments.

Captain Connie Parr doing a favorite cheer “We've got a T-E-A-M.”
Clad in their new sparkling white uniforms, my majorettes again this year added that extra spark to all my football games. Headed by Co-captains Carole Staples and Pat Sodja, they entertained all in the stands with a variety of marches, twirls, and dances.

For their hour or two before the public, these girls must put in many hours of hard work each week. During the summer they practiced twice a week, and when school started in September, they often braved the elements to practice an hour and a half each morning.

One of their other duties is to organize and direct my Majorette Club. This club is composed of forty of my sophomore and junior girls who want to become candidates for my next year’s majorettes. The seventeen majorettes and alternates act as teachers and instruct the girls in the skills of twirling, marching, and dancing.

The Majorettes also sponsor a dance in the spring called the “King Hop.” A senior boy is elected king with a junior and a sophomore attendant.

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community the high standards of Christian character, is the basic fundamental of my Hi-Y. The organization is divided into various chapters: Lords, Nobles, Squires, Counts, Regents, and Monarchs. Membership is organized by each chapter. Their meetings are either at the Y-House or at the home of a member. Throughout my school year they perform such duties as sponsoring dances, pizza sales, and working on civic projects. This year the Regents won the Hi-Y basketball championship of the greater Cleveland area.
The Friendship Club is an organization for my sophomore, junior, and senior girls. It gives the girls an opportunity to develop leadership through active participation in social programs and service projects. It teaches the girls to work with and for others.

The one big project of my Friendship Club is its formal dance, co-sponsored by the Hi-Y clubs. This year, since the date of the dance was February 13, they took advantage of the Valentine theme and named it “The Sweetheart Ball.”

The Future Teachers of America is an active organization composed of those students who have as their common goal the teaching of the youth of tomorrow. Each year the members are given the opportunity of substituting in one of our city schools. This annual function enables my students to obtain an idea of the experiences found in a teaching career.

Under the able guidance of my class sponsor, Mr. Bruce Graham, and Class President, Ray Vespe, my Senior Cabinet discussed and settled many problems with which my Senior Class is confronted. This year's Senior Cabinet, which is composed of the class officers and an elected boy and girl from each homeroom, helped plan my Senior Play, Senior Prom, pictures, and commencement exercises.
The Ad Club is one of my most essential organizations. Supervised by Mr. Anthony Vaccariello, it aids my athletic department, by selling tickets for games before and during the event, by collecting tickets at the doors, and by performing other duties. Often they are called upon to aid in the publicity and promotion of my sports activities.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, my Key Club is composed of boys who meet one evening a week for the purpose of community service. This program provides outside recreation for the members and helps them to develop their character and their ability to get along with others. The club offers its members a chance to visit manufacturing plants, to listen to interesting speakers, and to assist with the Key Club dance. My members also attend an annual convention of clubs in the Ohio district.
Every time a movie is shown in my extensive visual education program, the operator behind the projector is a trained member of the Movie Club. Members receive instructions on the use and care of the equipment from Mr. Olin Bailey, the club sponsor. They aid the teachers in using movies by “bringing the screen to the classroom” and they are among the privileged group who “ride the elevators.”

The proceeds from the noon movies, shown by the Movie Club, are used to provide funds for additional equipment.

The members of Mr. Melvin Robb’s Camera Club are continually occupied photographing school events for my Survey, Euclidian, and other publications. Members learn the use of professional equipment and have every opportunity to employ their knowledge in covering my sports, social, and academic events. The club sponsors a yearly intra-school photo contest and members exhibit their work in various shows throughout the year.
The P.A. Announcers... bring you the morning announcements. Although this group has no other chance to meet, the P.A. Announcers, under the direction of Mr. Leonard Robuck, can always be called upon for something unusual and entertaining in the course of making the daily announcements.

Who else but a P.A. Technician could make any sense out of the great conglomeration of equipment in my P.A. room. Mr. James Gebhart and Mr. Jack Miller, sponsors, see to it that not only do the members know how to use this equipment but also that they have the opportunity to employ their technical skill. It is the duty of the P.A. Technicians to take care of all intra-school communications. Members set up the equipment for the morning announcements, handle the various other classroom calls, and are often called upon to make tape or disc recordings of my various functions.
World Affairs Club

The purpose of my World Affairs Club is to interest students in current world problems and to develop understanding in their solutions. During the club period, the members discuss an important issue, often with the aid of a movie or a guest speaker. Under the direction of Mrs. Helen Stewart, the club sponsor, members participate in many community activities.

A group of my students have joined the Publications Club in order that they might help extend to my student body the creative writing talent of some of their friends. Not only does this club run a contest each year for material, but it prints and sells the stories, poems, and essays in a booklet form called the “Eucuyo.” The club also published the “Senior Scandal Sheet” and “Class Will” for graduating seniors.
Miss Edith Lemon’s Red Cross group is a club with a purpose. It is dedicated to serve others. The club, among its other functions, provides aid to various institutions such as hospitals and the armed forces. Members prepare gift boxes and a gift exhibition to be sent abroad in an effort to do all they can to improve international relations. I feel it is truly a significant achievement when some of my students can learn to work together for the benefit of others.

My stage crew consists of the members of two daily classes in stagecraft, one under the direction of Mr. Herbert Nold, the other supervised by Mr. Gene Thompson. In these classes members learn the fundamentals of scenery, scenery design, and stage construction. Members of my stage crew employ their knowledge in setting up my stage and scenery for assemblies and the wide variety of other programs which transpire in my auditorium.
Nai Napola is the secret name of my swim club. It is an Hawaiian name whose meaning is known only to its members. Nai Napola was organized in 1952 by Mr. Jody Gram and Miss Mary Wolverton. Since Miss Wolverton left Euclid, her job has been taken over by Mrs. Jane Kline.

Membership includes twenty boys and twenty girls, usually juniors and seniors, who must pass a rigid test before becoming members. They must show proficiency in nine different strokes by doing two laps of the pool with each stroke. They must show some skill in diving and also in underwater swimming. They must demonstrate their endurance by doing a prescribed number of laps of the pool.

The purpose of the club is to advance aquatic skills. They include synchronized and speed swimming plus water safety.

In the spring Nai Napola presents its annual Water Show. There is one central theme upon which several acts are based. These acts may include synchronized swimming, or comedy, displaying all the skills of the members.

The group of white-suited girls found in the gym every Wednesday, third period, is the Girls' Leaders Club. The group is composed of athletically inclined girls with a high ranking in scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship, and dependability. It is under the direction of Miss Carol Greve.

A special function of the club is the Leaders' Clinic, which introduces those girls who are interested in becoming members to the purpose and ideals of the club. Every sport and its rules are discussed by the present members. Junior and sophomore girls are eligible to attend the Clinic and become candidates for membership. When the selection of new members is made, the present ones initiate them by both a formal and an informal ceremony.

The main purpose of my G.L.C. is assisting in the teaching of skills, organizing sports and activities, and refereeing intramurals. My leaders are also in charge of makeups.

An important social activity is the Annual Alumni Night, a social get-together of all old and new members. Members of the club have been invited to various play days, sponsored by member schools of the Lake Erie League and certain independent schools.

Girls' Leaders Club
Here you see pictured all my senior Leaders taking part in the various sports offered to my girls in the gym classes.
One of the main duties of my girl swimmers is to help in my swimming classes teaching girls how to swim and how to improve their various strokes. The membership consists of twenty girls who are chosen by Mrs. Jane Kline, Jody Gram, and my Swim Club. The girls have to pass a rigid test of many aquatic skills before they are eligible for membership.

My girl swimmers are engaged in many special activities. They are given the opportunity to participate in my annual water show, to plan the intramural swim meet among the gym periods, to teach in classes, and to promote all forms of water safety and other aquatic activities.
Since sportsmanship in our world of today is a great asset in maintaining peace, the main purpose of my Girls’ Athletic Association is to inject sportsmanship into the minds of all its members.

The G.A.A. enables any of my high school girls to participate in the various sports, such as field hockey, basketball, volleyball, and badminton. The goal of each member is to receive the letter “E” which is awarded when she acquires a specific number of points earned through participation in intramural sports and other outside sport activities.

The G.A.A. Advisory Board is composed of members who are specifically in charge of a certain sport. They schedule the tournaments, see that able referees are present, and report the points acquired by each girl.

HOCKEY TEAM
Individual ability, team spirit, and good coaching combine to give to me successful seasons in athletics.
This year's season record in football, four victories and four defeats, is a credit to my coaching staff who molded a group of green players into a smooth-functioning, high-spirited squad. Surprising a favorite Ashtabula eleven in the battle of "Panthers," my team swept to a four-touchdown victory in the season opener and sparked by Ed Ludvik's running, fought on even terms with powerful Canton Lehman. The heartbeat of the year came in the Lakewood game when a spectacular end zone catch by Don Smilich was ruled incomplete, and the Rangers rolled to a second half triumph and an eventual league championship. My boys rebounded, however, against Parma and upset its stadium dedication with a Panther victory. This set the stage for the Shaw game at a time when the Cardinals were the class of the league. Two touchdown underdogs, my gridders led by Ed Ludvik's touchdown runs and the linebreaking of Ken Watson, ground out a decisive 21-0 victory. Homecoming was a forfeit to me by Cleveland Heights, but Lorain's Steeler had too much depth the following week. In the final game against Shaker, my Panthers struck with a 13-0 first quarter lead but faltered in the second half to drop a close contest.

In every game my team displayed the elements of clean, hard football and won as many fans with spirited sportsmanship as with thrilling touchdown runs.
If you've ever tried talking to my football coaches, "Sparky" DiBiasio, "Uncle Neal" Nelson, and "Big Chief" Eckert, at the same time, you may be sure every word they say will be humorous. I, Eddie, happened to be passing the sports office when they were together. I stopped in and the subject of football was immediately brought up. They were talking about their coaching techniques. "What was different about this year's technique as compared to last year's?" I asked. "Eckert coached," broke in Neal. "We used eleven men instead of ten," responded Eckert. And Sparky, doing a jig dance, demonstrated the last routine. Trying to be serious, Coach Nelson said, "We improved on our split-T formation." "Trouble is," interrupted the Big Chief. "it split in reverse—in defense instead of offense." Sparky continued in the same manner, "We went to coaching schools that taught us how to improve our drills." "Yes," agreed Uncle Neal, "we taught drills. Next year we'll get around to teaching the game." Silence fell; and not wanting them to stop with their humorous remarks, I asked, "Do you think it was a successful year?" Sparky started to answer with, "Success isn't measured in wins or losses, but on what the boys get out of the sport.” Eckert and Neal ended the answer with, “Yes, what a guy gets out of it — an autographed cast, a front row seat at the athletic assembly, and a practice jersey or two.” Suddenly, all became serious about the subject they could joke about — joke about only because they knew and liked it so well — because it is as much a part of them as eating and reading and teaching. “The relationship between coach and player was really something,” said Sparky. “The boys on the team felt we were their friends, and we felt they were ours. You know how Eckert is, Eddie, always an air of humor when he’s around. The boys would lock-up his clothes while he was taking a shower, or else they’d turn his lock upside down.”

“Our boys really did a marvelous job for as inexperienced as they were,” continued Sparky, while Neal and Eckert nodded in agreement, “most of their success was due to the great amount of team spirit they had.” “You remember the Shaw game,” Nelson interrupted, “don’t you, Eddie?” “Isn’t that the one where Shaw, who was undefeated was supposed to beat you by two touchdowns?” I asked, “Yes, and we beat them by a score of 21-0,” finished Neal.

“We finished with a 4-4 record. A record made with determination and spirit.” “And,” Sparky added, “I feel with a little more luck, we could have had a 7-1 record.”

“The guys on the teams started calling Bill Tintler, ‘Moose’,” continued Eckert, “because of the funny noises he made while he was practicing.”

All agreed as I was leaving the office, “Yes, Eddie, they were a good gang to work with — to share wins and losses with — we hope next year’s team is as cooperative and spirited as they were.”

With only one letterman returning for this year’s campaign and an inexperienced squad from last year to fill the vacancies, my varsity basketball team posted a 10-6 season record.

After suffering a defeat in their first game with Cleveland East, my spirited Panther hoopsters obtained a four-game winning streak, defeating Painesville Harvey, Shaker, Parma, and Akron Ellet. But the victory streak was short-lived as Lakewood upset my varsity by only one point, Shaw by two points, and Brush by eleven.

Rebounding from these defeats, my cagers outplayed Cleveland Heights, Shaker, Geneva, and Parma.

With the loss of Captain Latt Winder to my Blue and Gold line-up, our sharp-shooting quintet lost a close one to Lakewood, 41-36, that decided the L.E.L. championship.

Bouncing back again, my squad defeated Ashtabula by only one point in one of the most thrilling games ever seen in my gym. The second last game was lost to a powerful Shaw squad who tied the game in the last second of play and won in an overtime. My Panthers ended the 1954 season by defeating Cleveland Heights.

CAPTAIN

Latt Winder happily remembering the team’s excellent record.
It was just after basketball season when I happened to see Coaches Jim Calvert and John Supanee discussing the season's happenings. When I, Edward Samuel Hughes (more commonly called "Eddy") joined them, they were just agreeing, "A basketball coach's life is a little rough at times." Coach Supanee related to me the time Coach Calvert tried to look up a phone number in the dictionary. When Coach Calvert was explaining to me how it happened, Mr. Supanee broke in jokingly with, "He was starting to crack." I happened to mention the words "team spirit," and they both agreed it was excellent — highest it has ever been. "Just for an example," Mr. Calvert explained, "during the season we got two new players, transfer students — good players. Two members on the team knew that if the new players were too good they would be replaced by them. But they still worked hard to do everything possible to help them — disregarding the thought of being replaced. This means they put team success before individual glory, and that was the key to our success this year."

"There was no selfishness at all?" I asked.

"No, none."

I continued to ask about the techniques of coaching this year as compared to last year. They both said that they had to work... more on fundamentals than they ever had to before. Finesse, a faking, stylish play, was taught to make up for the loss of height.

"We're really proud of this gang," they continued, "can't say enough about them. When we went to away games, we didn't allow them to wear levis, they had to dress up. They looked like a different bunch of guys. They always had good table manners; we were really pleased with them. One thing we like to create is an informal attitude between coach and player. We like to share their problems, experiences, and want to be close to them. That's why," Coach Calvert said, "I never minded being called 'J.C.'"

"I remember," Coach Supance said with a smile, "Ernie and Sleith used to open and close the place. They were always first in dressing before a game and last in changing after a game."

"I believe," Coach Calvert said, "that Latt did much to relieve the tension before and after the games. He had a lot of humor. On the bus he'd start community singing that lasted all during the trip. We, Coach Supance and I, didn't mind this; it was good, comical singing."

For their final words they both added with deep sincerity, "Yes, Eddy, it was a successful year!"
Left: High-scoring junior forward Ernie Christoff demonstrates his jump shot against Parma, George Siru (10), senior playmaker, eyes the ball, Ernie's sharp shooting won the Ashtabula game in the final three seconds.

Center: Christoff drives around Bin Barta of Lakewood's L.E.L. champs in Euclid's fourth period rally.

Right: Captain Latt Winder shows the form that made his hook-shot difficult to stop. Lakewood's Bin Barta is the unsuccessful defender. Latt tallied 33 points in his final game against Geneva for a new one-game record.

Top Right: Clever Dick Delaney of Brush solves a brief lapse in the Euclid defense. Winder, Christoff, Walklet, and Gillespie arrive too late to stop this drive.

Bottom Left: Bob Crooks jumps high to make a perfect block on an opponent's shot during the Brush J.V. game. Dick Phillips watches Number 27 who is anything but happy.

Bottom Right: "Now Coach!" J.V. Coach George Wiley prepares to send in Captain John Bomback, Dave Burval, and Rudy Pegararo to stop an opponent's rally.
The 1953 swimming team was the best in my history as it broke every school mark and posted a 7-4 record. Although they were defeated by Shaker Heights 53-22 in the first meet of the season, their team spirit and individual skills showed steady improvement. As the season progressed, my swimmers defeated Shaw 57-18. After a 49-26 loss to University, my Panther swimmers, captained by Senior Tim Browning and coached by Mr. Jody Gram, obtained a five-meet winning streak defeating Wooster 43-39; East Tech 42-32; Cleveland Heights 49-26; Cuyahoga Falls 56-10; and Upper Arlington 46-29. Although they lost to Lakewood 53-22 and Western Reserve Academy 44-26, my spirited Panther “aquamen” swam on to victory as they defeated Shaw High 49-26 in their last meet of the season. My team provided the crowd with many thrills. The determination exhibited at all the meets was certainly in the championship class.

Upper Left: Mr. Jack Miller clocks Captain Tim Brown (far right) as he starts in the 100 yard breast stroke against Western Reserve Academy. Tim's best time for this event (1:08.8) was one of nineteen records established by this year's team.

Upper Right: Lou Pribysak (striped shirt) turns in a winning time to team manager and meet announcer Tom Stokes. Girls' swimming instructor, Mrs. Jane Kline, was clerk of the course at all home meets. Mr. "Tyke" Staines of the faculty helped with the timing.

Lower Left: Dick Collins of Euclid (far right) finishes a close second in the 100 yard back-stroke as Mr. Donald Brown times the winner. Dick is the current record holder in this event (1:10.6).

Lower Right: Dick Collins starts the 150 yard medley relay against East Tech. The Euclid team of Collins, Browning, and Chuck Smith posted a record time of 1:28.6 this season.
This year my track varsity faced its toughest season, competing in fifteen dual meets, relays, and championship contests. Coach George Wiley, in his first year with track, was assisted by “Sparky” DiBiasio and looked to nine returning lettermen to form the nucleus of his squad. Captain Tom Stokes supplied strength in the dashes; Sam Willow excelled in both hurdle events and the high jump; Dick Wadsworth and Don Smith handled the middle distances and the relays; Louis Prebevsek provided a seasoned performer in the half-mile run; Dick Bronkall, Sam Fleming, and LeRoy Yeary filled openings in many events and gave depth to the squad.

After the scholastic indoor meet at the Arena, the team prepared for my second annual Euclid Invitational Relays in meets with Mentor, Cleveland West, and Heights. Strong opponents were met in the Mansfield and the West Tech Relays and district and state competition followed meets with Perrin, Shaw, Willoughby, and Shaker.

The season’s highlight was the Lake Erie League Meet, and my trackmen showed the competition, including Lakewood’s powerful champions, that Euclid’s Panthers were a determined outfit.

Arena Meet

My trackmen finished third in the Suburban I Division of the scholastic track meet held at the Arena on April 2. An outstanding performance was given by Dick Wadsworth and Don Rositano when they captured first and second place respectively in the 440-yard dash. Sophomore Ed Stroberg came within one tenth of a second of the meet record in winning the 50-yard dash. The mile relay team of Rositano, John Bomback( LeRoy Yeary, and Wadsworth finished second, yielding to Shaker after a hotly contested race. Sam Willow was the only Euclid man to place in two individual events — the high jump and the 50-yard high hurdles.

Cross Country

Finishing third in the Lake Erie League, ninth in the District and placing a runner in the State, my Panther Cross-country team, captained by Robert Hale, displayed plenty of drive and endurance.

These spirited undermen opened the season with two straight victories over Shaw and Painesville Harvey, then dropped a close meet with Shaker Heights. Only Lakewood’s state champions decisioned this squad with any authority.

Dave Heck, a sophomore, was the number one man, placing seventh in the Lake Erie League, ninth in the District, and thirty-ninth out of 180 in the State Meet at Columbus.

Coach George Wiley was greatly pleased with my team’s showing, and he is looking forward to even greater achievements next year with six lettermen returning.

CAPTAIN
Rollie Kosteinshek talking on the phone in the athletic office.

This year to the call of "Play ball" thirty varsity candidates reported to my new baseball coach, Mr. Neal Nelson. With Captain-elect Rollie Kosteinshek the only returning letterman from last year's L.E.I. championship team, Coach Nelson faced a rebuilding job in order to meet the tough schedule of L.E.I. play and independent contests.

Seniors Bill Brown, Gary Weir, Dick Schultz and Harry Meier showed early promise but support had to be found in a group of underclass men headed by Juniors Frank Spino, Chuck Obert, Rudy Pegararo, Ed Hovanec, Ray Buzanski, and Julian Petruzzi and Sophomore Eddy Brown. A strong pitching staff was headed by Juniors Ernie Christoff, Richard Rinehart and George Codling.

Coach Nelson, assisted by Mr. Al Galicki and Mr. John Supance, corrected mistakes and directed enthusiasm. The experience gained by the squad will help future Euclid varsities.

Baseball 1954

one hundred and fifty-seven
My 1953 baseball squad made a fine showing by winning fifteen games, losing three, and tying one. My team proved to be a true champion as it won the Lake Erie League Championship for the second year in a row. It also won the District Class A Championship and was runner-up in the Class A Regionals.

Team captain, Ken Anzells, and two pitchers, Ernie Henkle and Phil Borovic, were picked for the All-Scholastic Team. These three, along with Bob Bartlett and Fred Adamowitz, were also included in the All Lake Erie Team. They all were signed by major league organizations during the summer.

The Class A final with Akron Garfield was a real thriller! Euclid led 3 to 0 going into the sixth inning when Akron filled the bases on a single and two walks. With a 3 to 2 count, Phil Borovic tried to throw the ball past the batter but instead the ball went flying over the right field wall into Lexington Avenue for a grand-slam home run. That was the ball game, 4 to 3 in favor of Akron Garfield, and the final game of the season.

Second Row: Mr. Galicki, J. Yarema, K. Rinehart, K. Anzells, E. Hinkel, B. Austin, B. Schneider.
One of the recent interscholastic sports added to my schedule is tennis. My fall tennis team participates in the Lake Erie League while my spring tennis team vies for honors in the Greater Cleveland League. With the close of the 1953 fall season, the team, captained by Harvey Baron, found itself tied for third place in the Lake Erie League. Displaying much spirit and interest in the game, my “Blue and Gold” netters gave all their opponents a good battle. Having seen much improvement throughout the fall season, Coach Frank Troglia can put his team on the court this spring knowing that they will be a threat to any foe.

On the Pine Ridge Country Club course, my golfers, instructed by Mr. Frank Pringle in his first season as coach, met league teams from Parma, Shaker, Willoughby, Cleveland Heights, and Wickliffe. The tradition established by former coach, Mr. Harold Blackburn, continued, as the spirit of competition and a desire for perfection kept the team’s interest high. It was Coach Pringle’s desire that my golf team would have places for all boys interested in the sport, and by constant practice and determination many of these won their varsity letter in golf.
The National Athletic Scholarship Society is a nation-wide organization whose purpose is to further participation in athletics and to promote both scholarship and athletic ability. My chapter is composed of boys who have earned letters in my competitive sports, who have maintained a good scholastic standing, and who have been elected by vote of my faculty. One of the most coveted honors that a high school can bestow upon its athletes is that of inducting them into the National Athletic Scholarship Society.

Boys’ Leaders

My Boys’ Leaders, or Gym Leaders, is a group of boys who are willing to devote some of their gym period and free time to help the gym teachers instruct boys in physical education. Mr. Clarence Swackhammer is in charge of the Boys’ Leaders Club which meets every Monday during the third period. The duties of my leaders are to assist in exercises, gymnastics, and demonstrations; to check the conduct of the gym classes; and to assist in intramurals before and after school. The gym leader must have a good knowledge of the rules and techniques of all sports and must be physically fit in order to demonstrate them.
Athletic Director Richard Keay has charge of all my boys' varsity athletics. His duties include the purchasing and maintenance of equipment, the scheduling of all athletic events, and the assigning of officials. Another of his responsibilities is to act as chairman of my Athletic Board. The Board includes all my coaches, my principal, and other members of my faculty connected with the boys' athletic program. This group discusses my athletic policy in monthly meetings.

Mr. Anthony Vaccariello, as faculty manager, is in charge of my athletic promotion. This includes ticket sales, advertising, and publicity. This year Mr. Vaccariello was director of the regional basketball tournament held in my gym.

Memories made with friends, old and new . . .
to be cherished forever . . .
The beginning . . . September 9, 1953 . . . my doors opened to some one thousand three hundred students . . . soon they'd walk my halls, learn from my teachers . . . participate in my activities . . . but I, Euchild High, was theirs for the taking . . .

I'll always remember “Uncle Jake's House” — the theme of the Survey Assembly . . . . . the first student-produced assembly of the year . . . it was held in September . . . wonder who enjoyed it more, the cast or the audience? . . . just goes to show, we're all 'Kids' at heart . . .

There was always a dance after my home football games . . . my cafeteria would become crowded with students who were never too tired to dance and have fun . . . and a dance was never complete without a circle around a couple doing an “extra-special” jitterbug . . .

Appetite is probably the first word among my students . . . unless it's second to hunger . . . and those lunch lines! . . . with students racing to get in line first . . . teacher and student both waiting patiently to get served . . . and food that made it all worth while . . .
“Going to noon movie?” . . . twenty minutes of eating was followed by twenty minutes of adventuring to France, fighting the Apaches, laughing with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis . . . traveling through the jungle . . . swooning over Dick “Robin Hood” Todd . . . and all this made possible by my Movie Club and the purchase of a two-cent ticket . . .

In October came my Junior Class Party . . . besides dancing and refreshments, entertainment was also to be had . . . pantomim ing the record, “Little Red Riding Hood” are: Diane Stupka, Beverly Hamilton, Donna Shaw, and Virginia Lombardo . . .

Here chairman of my Magazine Drive, Jean O’Connor, is awarding the prizes to the high salesmen, Roberta Minicucci and Richard Korda . . . the drive is an annual affair . . . it lasts for ten days . . . the profit made is divided up among my organizations . . .

An evening of fun and frolic was had by all my sophomores who attended their Sophomore Class Party . . . dancing . . . refreshments . . . the Coke cups seem to prove the popular demand for “the pause” . . .
... just stopping a minute to take a look at my students ... (that handsome man on the right, though, is not a student, but Coach Eckert) ...

College Clinic was held early in my school year ... after a short business meeting of the P.T.A., speeches from the Deans, and a talk by the main speaker, doughnuts, tea, and coffee were served ...

Starting my second annual Homecoming with cheer and zip was my first outdoor pep rally ... starting at 2:30 and winding up with a snake dance that led from the stands to the other side of the field, where ...

The finale to the rally was — the bonfire ... its climax — the burning of the Cleveland Heights dummy by Co-Captains, Bill Warholic and Ken Watson ...

one hundred and sixty-seven
Presenting the first place trophy to the President of my Key Club, Tim Browning, and Vice-President, Glenn Yeary, are Deanna Cook and Chuck Smith, co-chairmen of my Homecoming... the Key Club had the winning float, its theme was...

"In My Merry Oldsmobile"... it had the touch of the "Gay Nineties"... with Chuck and Barbara seated on the antique car with duster, derby and all...

Receiving third place, the Regents Hi-Y float, "Winter Wonderland"... it took one week alone to build the snowman... and Euchid's nursery helped by furnishing the tree... seems the theme could also be, "I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm"...

A touch of romance and lazy Sunday afternoons was portrayed by the Nobles Hi-Y float, "Cruising Down The River"... it received second place... the boy and girl seem to look very familiar together...

Using 2,000 flowers to decorate the sides of its float, my Ad Club put a great deal of time into the theme, "Hawaiian War Chant"... my Euclid girls seem to look very much at home in their sarongs...
Lovely Carolyn Mosall crowned Queen of my Second Annual Homecoming by Co-Captain Bill Warholic, while Co-Captain Ken Watson and my eager and fun-loving students looked on . . . she was beautifully dressed in all white . . . her crown was made of yellow carnations . . .

A close-up of the Queen and her Attendants — Phyllis Stuzez, Sally Lyons, Jean Baldassarre, and Connie Parr — as they were being viewed by the enthusiastic crowd . . . after this ceremony, the game began.

The next night, Saturday, was the evening of my Homecoming Dance . . . it was held in my gym . . . even though the Bunny Hop has come into style, the traditional Mexican Hat Dance is still always a lot of fun . . . with this, my second annual Homecoming had come to an end . . .

A 'bird's eye view' of the crowd that attended my Homecoming . . . its excitement and spirit gave the finishing touch that was needed to make my Homecoming the success it was . . . but even with the spirit and excitement of my fans, band, cheerleaders, and majorettes, my team — though they fought to the end — lost to Cleveland Heights by a score of 13-7 . . .

Seated next to the captains of each of the winter sports is my Queen and her Attendants . . . the Captains: Tim Browning of swimming; Latt Winder of basketball; Bill Warholic and Ken Watson of football; Dennis Adams of wrestling; and Bob Hale of cross-country . . .

Starting the campaign for My First Will and Testament with fun and zip was the Euclidian assembly... it was produced and directed by my Business Staff... one quote that remained with my students for a long time was, "Why don't you pick me up and read me some time?"...

On November 12 I opened my doors once again to the public for my fifth annual Open House... I was cleaned and decorated from hall to classroom - even my showcases...

which some of my students viewed during their leisure moments in the hall... while others looked at my trophies... some coming... some going...

The "Moms" of my football players bought my cheerleaders mums at the Shaker game held on November 6... it was also Mom and Dad's Night... (Oops, Mr. Robb, watch your negative -- it's backwards)...
Decorating of trees is one way that my students add Christmas spirit to their school life . . . this activity is sponsored by the Student Council . . . also colorful letters are pasted on my front windows for the public to see that I wish them a “Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.” . . .

Directed by Miss Jan Tompkins was my Christmas Concert held on December 9 . . . Ruth Edwards added a touch of novelty to the evening with her sand painting while my choir sang “Three Kings” and “Rejoice and Sing” in the background . . .

Fun and laughter—music and song . . . almost all my classes caught the Christmas spirit and had parties . . . my shop classes added refreshments and music to theirs . . . playing the banjo is Ron Sluga; the saxophone, Chuck Walters; the accordion, Mike Dragas; and the guitar, Rudy Strand.

The Four Aces? — no. The Four Lads? — no. Who? — why The Four Teachers — Mr. Robuck, Mr. Schutz, Mr. Robb, and Mr. Miller . . . they were entertaining the rest of my faculty at the Faculty Christmas Party . . .

one hundred and seventy-five
Field trips always add interest, enjoyment, and a novel way of learning to my classes... my senior government class is now boarding a chartered bus to witness a trial at the Court House.

The Lakewood basketball game... and some of those who saw it... from the looks on some of the faces, Lakewood must have made a basket...

January 28 brought to my auditorium Speech and Drama Night... two one-act plays “Fireman Save My Child” and “The Happy Journey,” were given by an all-school cast along with three declamations by N.F.L. members... wonder whose glove Tom has his shoe on... would that be a faux pas or a gaucherie...

My Seniors were finally Senior “A’s!”... so that everyone would be able to recognize a Senior “A” from any underclassmen, every Monday was set aside as “Senior ‘A’ Distinction Day”... pictured here are the unforgettable knee socks, with the boys rolling up their pants to let their argylues show... different Mondays brought ribbons, boy-blouses and ties, and stuffed animals...
That unforgettable evening of February 13 ... The Sweetheart Ball ... co-sponsored by my Hi-Y and Friendship Clubs ... every couple started the evening by presenting the bid and receiving the dance programs ...

Chatting a bit between dances is always in good taste ... here brother and sister, Jack and Deanie, and their dates are two of the many couples just enjoying themselves through conversation ...

Along the sides of my cafeteria, tables were decorated to follow the sweetheart and Valentine's Day theme ... around these, couples gathered to sit and talk, to eat their refreshments (punch and cookies) or to rest a while between dances ...

Some couples dance in the background to music furnished by Harry Hershey's Music Masters, while others chose to talk, or gaze at the beautiful decorations — the new backdrop with cupids on it, the arched crepe paper, the mobiles, and everywhere — red and white hearts ... but even unforgettable evenings must come to an end — so after "Goodnight Sweetheart," "I'll See You In My Dreams," and "Linger Awhile" the couples slowly departed ... my cafeteria was empty — lonely and silent.

One of the few rehearsals my seniors had for their competitive assembly... the entire assembly, portraying the months of spring, was under the direction of Dick Schultz... on Thursday, March 18, the enjoyable and colorful assembly was presented to my student body... this was just one of the many activities that keep my seniors "on the go"... my seniors, while working hard in their many activities, also found time...

To prepare for graduation, such as the measuring for caps and gowns... Jack is making sure that Marilyn has a perfect fit... Margie is handling rental fees and announcement orders... "Very few more days for the Senior 'A's.'..."

There were several "sure signs" of spring... the outdoor track season opened... convertible tops started coming down... the fancies of young men "lightly turned" as usual... and my metal shop class constructed a batting cage for the baseball team...

In April came the spring sports' dance and the spring sports' queen... scholarship tests... state music contests... my own Minstrel Show put on by the swim club... the Majorette King Hop where one of my popular senior boys reigned as King...

The month of May, except for the Big Show — the biggest and best all-school production and the Student Council elections — with their speeches, voting, and assemblies, could be called "Senior Month"... with the long awaited Senior Prom, the Senior Banquet, and the Senior Assembly...

With the coming of June, came the graduation of my seniors. With a heavy heart and an almost empty feeling, I, Eddie, watched each senior receive his diploma — a diploma which was like a seal that ended the all-important chapter of high school in his life. It is my wish that though these seniors have ended their high school years — years filled with every emotion — love, happiness, loneliness, excitement, boredom, joy — that they will only venture out to greater happiness and success as each one faces the world...

Yes, all these made me realize that the end of another year was here. As always, my students would leave — some to return, some not to return. I hope they all carry memories with them of happy Euclid High days. And so, before you close the pages of My First Will and Testament, remember that even though the 1953-1954 school year has come to a close, to you, my students, my doors will never be shut...
To whom my thanks go for helping to make possible, "My First Will and Testament"...

EUCLID POST No. 343

"To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, Freedom, and Democracy."

From the Preamble
American Legion Constitution

THANK YOU...

Without the help and guidance of many people, this yearbook would have been impossible. We wish to express our deepest appreciation to them...

To Dr. W. Fordyce... Superintendent of Schools... for providing us with all the wonderful facilities for publishing this yearbook...

To Mr. C. Owens... Euclid Principal... for working with us and helping us with our new ideas and our many problems...

To Mr. W. Schwegler... Euclid Vice-Principal... for taking an active interest in our book...

To Mr. G. Wiley... Sponsor... for so many, many items... for his everlasting patience... for his help and understanding... but most of all for being a real friend as well as an advisor...

To Mr. R. Bennett... Business Sponsor... for providing us with the budget needed to publish a book such as this...

To Raimor Studios... for having such patience with us... for taking over three-fourths of all our pictures... for giving up their valuable time in order to take a special picture for us...

To Mr. R. Seitz... Cleveland Engraving Co.... for giving us a free hand with our book... for offering valuable technical advice...

To Mr. H. Hurst... Painesville Publishing Co... for complying with all our new ideas... for being an understanding person whom it was a pleasure to work with...

To Mrs. Hecker... Little King Publishing Co... for helping us to design our cover...

To Mr. M. Robb... Camera Club... for taking our social section pictures... for patiently making so many reprints for us...

To Miss B. Kost... for diligently checking over all our written matter...

To the faculty... for accepting with smiles all our excuses for getting out of class to work on the Euclidian... for their consideration and help during the trying days of the picture-taking...

To the students... for all the co-operation given us... for help in many of our problems...

To the staffs... for the book itself... for giving of their time freely for a better yearbook...

Without the help of each and every one mentioned this book would not have been published... to say "thank you" would hardly be enough, but we do wish to say it with the deepest sincerity...

"Thank you all very much."
